

Around the Square

We strolled through the City Hall the other day to observe a cigarette sending smoke signals from Bill Lees' desk and nary a soul in sight. Jokingly reported same to Chief Heasley—only to discover Bill leaning over our shoulder.

Came home and threw that "How to Win Friends" book out window.

A neat little typo in a neighboring journal advises women that for gracefulness "you should walk erect and with poise."

Potted, maybe?

Some of the men about town are complaining bitterly that the unusual liberty allowed beards during Pioneer Days has encouraged continued hirsute progress. The 5 o'clock shadow is now cast at noon.

We at the NEWS office are wearying of being confused with News Stand. Our telephone numbers repose side by side in the book and three times a day we get a call to see "are you still putting up food to take out?"

We've decided to answer—"No'm, not since the last seven people got ptomaine."

What's it worth to you, Ed?

During the smart fashion show held by the Civic Club last week, Ginny Pratt, Ruth Miles and Bud Doty made sporadic and convulsing appearances in out-dated and best-forgotten styles. Recall the waist line at the hips? The hats like foxes' lairs from which only two eyes glimmered? Well, if you do, it's a cinch you're over 21.

So we poked fun at Cloyd Marshall, Mrs. Joseph Barnes and Mrs. Melvin Bowman when their cats had kittens.

So we wrote them up in the column.

So our cat promptly delivered up one kitten.

Gee, it's cute.

'Big Red Car' Ride To Cost More, Maybe

Setting forth that temporary fares, which became effective last August 20th, have not produced sufficient revenue to pay expenses of operations and taxes, Pacific Electric Railway this week filed an application with the California Public Utilities Commission for increases and adjustments in passenger fares in order to offset continuing increasing operating costs.

A Sierra Madre-Los Angeles fare increase from 34 to 40 cents and a jump in the Monrovia-Los Angeles rate from 40 to 45 cents were included.

Application signed by O. A. Smith, President, Pacific Electric Railway Company, states that net operating loss on passenger service for the period September 1946 to March 1947, inclusive, was $624,920., and that it is anticipated that for year commencing July 1, 1947, revenues to be derived from present rates of fares will fall by $1,500,000 to meet taxes and operating expenses.

The application requests authority to establish minimum 10c fare on all lines and to increase other one-way and round trip fares, such fares to end in "0" or "5", and to adjust some fare-breaking points. Ten-ride commutation tickets, all forms of tokens, and joint $1.50 weekly pass would be eliminated. Thirty-ride commutation tickets are proposed to be continued on adjusted basis between points where one-way fare is 20c or more. Forty-ride school commutation tickets would be continued for use of students under 21 years of age attending institutions of learning where no tuition is charged.

Joint Sewer Line With Arcadia Is Planned By City

CITY COUNCIL EXPECTED TO ACT ON BOUNDARY LINE PROPOSAL

With the opening of bids for Sanitation District 15 outfall sewer line scheduled for yesterday afternoon and preparations under way for Sierra Madre's joining with Arcadia in a joint sewer line along common boundaries, a sewer sanitation system for this city approached reality.

At an adjourned meeting, held last night, the City Council was expected to take action on a proposal by Arcadia City Engineer Glenn B. Watson, that Sierra Madre join Arcadia to eliminate parallel lines, with a division of cost to be based on the line eliminated.

Mr. Watson's recommendation traced Arcadia's proposed sewer line beginning at the northern boundary and running southerly along Oak View Lane and Claridge Ave., thence to Sierra Madre Blvd. and continuing easterly on the Blvd. to where it joins Rodeo, to Orange Grove where it will intersect the sanitation line that serves Sierra Madre.

At points on Oak View Lane, the Arcadia line would be within 25 feet of the Sierra Madre City boundary. Mr. Watson pointed out, and would continue along it all the way to Orange Grove.

Resolutions have been prepared and it is expected that the City Council will take affirmative action on Arcadia's proposal.

Taxes, Taxes And Nothing But—

As the NEWS went to press last night Sierra Madre residents were gathered for a first Town meeting to discuss present and future taxation.

Contrary to publicity which appeared in a Pasadena paper, there was to be no discussion of matters other than city, county and school taxes, according to Mrs. R. A. Doyland, president of the Woman's Club which sponsored the meeting.

"The meeting was called by the Woman's Club to offer an opportunity for tax discussion," Mrs. Doyland said, "Should a tax association be the outgrowth of the meeting, all controversial matters would then fall within its jurisdiction."

Ladies Guests Installation Lions Dinner

There was a Sea Scout program at the Lions Club dinner last evening, in charge of Harold Stitt, skipper of the local SS Wistaria, the newly launched ship of the Sierra Madre Sea Scouts which is sponsored by the Lions.

Skipper Dane of the SS Nonesuch of Arcadia was a guest and Mr. McClelland, area commissioner of the San Gabriel Sea Scouts talked enthusiastically about the work.

There were three guests at the dinner from the SS Wistaria, Francis Kelley, First Mate; Loran Janes and Thom Polgren. Announcement was made of the paper drive which the Scouts will conduct during June and July. Any one having papers may call Mr. Stitt and the papers will be picked up and the proceeds used to equip the new ship.

Installation of officers will be held at the ladies dinner-night next Wednesday. District Governor Art Bellevue will be the distinguished guest of honor.

All the affairs will be adequately supervised by Scout leaders and Council members. Along with each participant should come a nose-bag lunch (they know what that means) and 10 cents. The fun is on the house.

Peacocks Fly The Coop And Hop The Hedges

An unexpectedly exotic touch was added to our city Monday when an echelon of six peacocks strolled down Sierra Madre Blvd. and took to the air as police challenged.

Believed to be from the Baldwin Ranch, the lovely creatures made a left hand turn on Lima and headed South when Chief McMillan began an amiable pursuit. He was after them for hedge-hopping, buzzing of pedestrians and flying without permission of the CAA.

Local "Micky" Gallops Into Second Edition

"Micky, the Horse that Volunteered" is going into second edition according to his co-author, Capt. Ansel E. O'Banion, one of Sierra Madre's notable citizens.

The idea of a second "Micky" has been accepted with enthusiasm by Whittlesey House, publishers, and will run into 10,000 words this time.

Capt. O'Banion reveals that the new volume will be based on a tribal Indian hunt through Montana—with a good mixture of braves and cowboys to be included.

To keep his hand in at public speaking, Capt. O'Banion addressed the Pasadena Chapter of the Military Order of World Wars, Tuesday evening. He described the Chinese overthrow of the Manchu government in 1911 under Sun Yat Sen, a historical event in which he participated.

Citizens Statement Urges Favorable Retirement Vote At July 15 City Election

SAYS INEVITABLE THAT CITY
PROVIDE EMPLOYEE SECURITY

In a move to gain a favorable majority vote at the forthcoming municipal election, a representative cross-section of Sierra Madre merchants, physicians, attorneys and realtors has affixed its signature of approval on the proposition to join Sierra Madre's City employees in the California State Retirement Plan.

The proposition will be voted on July 15 at the election ordered by the City Council.

The statement, to which prominent signatures have been appended, reads, in part, as follows:

"In recent years retirement or pension plans have become of general interest particularly since the enactment of the Federal Social Security Act which does not include public employees in its benefits.

"Locally the trend is evidenced by the ever-increasing number of cities, particularly smaller ones, that are joining the California State Employees Retirement System.

"This system was created for State employees and later amended to permit cities, counties, school districts and other public groups to include their employees as members. The small city thus gains the advantage of a state-wide system with consequent savings in cost, plus maximum security.

"Retirement systems which include disability and death benefits are the accepted means of meeting problems which are ever present in any group of employees.

"This protection to employees will make our city service more attractive to high grade persons who might otherwise seek employment in private industry or with other governmental agencies which do provide it. It will also tend to keep persons of character and ability, already in the city service, from seeking employment elsewhere."

The statement also points out that the public as an employer gains little immediate good from a newly adopted retirement plan if it considers only future employees and makes no provision for those persons already on the payroll, some of them for many years, and some of whom are approaching a state of superannuation, and are in fact hidden pensioners no longer physically able to properly perform their work.

All public groups who now participate in the Retirement System, give full credit for prior service of present employees.

Under the Retirement Law, the City pays approximately half and the employees, through payroll deductions, pay the other approximate half of the cost of current and future benefits. Prior service is paid for by the city in payments spread over a period of 25 years.

According to the most recent actuarial survey, the cost to the City will be a yearly payment of approximately $9,675.55 including payments for prior service. When prior service is paid for, based on present salaries, number of employees, etc., the payments will be reduced to approximately $5,429.67 per year.

Based on present assessed valuations a special tax of about 24 cents per $100 of assessed valuation will be required. This means that if a given piece of property is assessed at $1000, the cost to the owner will be $240 per year.

There are now about 160 contracting members (public groups) with the Retirement System. This is an increase of 51 over the contracting groups of less than two years ago. In addition there are 35 new requests for actuarial surveys.

"It is inevitable that the City of Sierra Madre must join with its employees and provide security for them. We are just as interested in low taxes as anyone, but the cost of the retirement plan is nominal now and we should place it in effect as soon as possible because the passing of each year without it adds to the cost.

It is economy, therefore, to vote the plan in by an overwhelming majority at the coming special election, July 15."

Rattlesnakes Prevalent This Summer

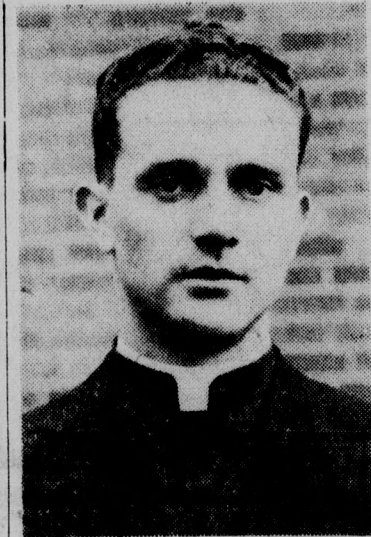

A timely warning reached the NEWS this week when an anonymous caller reported that Miss Louise Morey, resident of Big Santa Anita Canyon, had met and dispatched an exceptionally large rattlesnake at a stream crossing in Winter Creek Canyon.

Our visitor, a well-grounded ophiologist, advised that this year had seen an unusual number of snakes on mountain trails, along creek-beds and in our foothill areas. Best beware the morning hours from 7 to 9 o'clock and from 3 p. m. to dark, he warned, for then snakes move on the hunt for food.

For further information, our incognito expert suggested a reading of "Snakes Alive"—best all-round layman's book on reptiles.

Arcadia Council Accepts New Reservoir Conditions

Conditions set by the Sierra Madre Planning Commission to govern Arcadia's construction of a reservoir on property at the north end of Santa Anita Ave., were accepted at the June 19 meeting of Arcadia's City Council.

The conditions were embodied in the Commission's approval of the installation after it had heard protests by residents of the area several weeks ago.

Recommended for approval by Arcadia's Water Sup't, Scott Lee, the conditions required that the reservoir be sunk into the ground with no more than six feet exposed; that the pump-house likewise be sunk as well as equipped with a quiet motor; that there be a six-foot fence erected around the property which is to be planted with suitable ground cover and shrubbery.

School children make too much noise while playing tennis. Annoy elderly lady . . . Shooting doves on the wing puts a local boy in the arms of the law . . . Wave Pratt went to bed after forgetting to turn out the garage lights. A neighbor informed the police who found Wave asleep and unaware that his light bill was growing heavy. The firemen were surprised to find that the call that came in was only the city men riding an open lot of dangerous weeds. Water escaping from a Sierra Madre orchard and running into Arcadia was reported by the Arcadia constabulary. Orchardist was grateful. Wild rifle shooting from the Hastings Ranch resulted in a hole thru a window along Alegria in Sierra Madre. Both local police and County Sheriffs got after the trifling rifleman. Stray dog picked up for the pound.

Stray child. Mrs. Peterson reported a strange youngster among her many. T'was Summer Nash, a nearby neighbor, who desired company. A wild pitch of a rock thrower went thru a window. The future pitcher was "taken care of" by her mother, who also agreed to pay for the window. That pitch did not go over the pan, but thru the pane. More pains to follow. A noisy party report to the police is one of the unusuals. Either folks are getting used to it, or parties are more genteel in nature. Bundled newspapers are untied and scattered from in front of the News Stand. A grass fire! Firemen out in a hurry. "Found Mr. So and So on the couch, mind his own business", is the way the officer wrote his report after a call to "come at once". Another noisy party. A loose horse in Windsor Lane. Pretty close to downtown Sierra Madre. Lost wallet. Death message delivered. Ball playing in street. Burglary. Revolver stolen or missing. Noisy Party. This is getting awful. Barking dog. Now that's familiar. Again the barking dog. Doe Miller's dog is very agile and capable of leaping high into the air. A very high fence has been provided to keep the dog on the premises, but when a neighbor dog came to the fence to see our hero, he made a grand leap into the air, missed and fell between the fence and the stone wall adjoining, which were but a few inches apart. His weight carried him far into the narrow crevice between the post and the wall. It was necessary for the officer and another party to hoist the animal from his trap. This was once that a dog was heard to give a sigh of relief. Barking dog. These darn dogs are bound to keep in front. A six-year-old boy reported drowned in creek along the Big Santa Anita Canyon. "A man down." Officer Chunn carried him in.

Again the barking dog. The moon must be shining brightly. Rodent control of the County is fighting ground squirrels along the foothills. Animals that have been killed by poisoned grain are poison to animals that may eat them. The City Court has been busy with traffic cases, most of which were for too much noise from exhausts. Ambulance call. A man fell from a tree, rushed to St. Lukes. That's all.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mallery, son Mike, daughter Martha, ten cats and one dog, departed Saturday for their new home in Coleville, California.

While building the adobe paradise, a tent will house the family.

They lived at 813 Lupin Trail while in residence here and Mrs. Mallery was active in Girl Scout work. Her absence will leave a gap in the organization which will be difficult to fill.

BALLING
BABY TALK

By Maxine Balling

A DOLLAR! The girls here at the Balling Baby Shop think I'm a little crazy to put out those nice big $3.95 doll-high-chairs for a dollar . . . but Thursday is DOLLAR DAY all over Monrovia . . . and the merchants committee said, "We gotta give 'em VALUES!" . . . so you'll see some unusual values here Thursday. The high chairs are an example, they have aluminum legs, and they're big enough for a pretty large size doll. (There aren't but a few of them, so come early Thursday if you want one.)

A DOLLAR! For $2.95 knit suits . . . could also be called a better-than-any-old-day value. These are sizes 1 to 6 knit polo shirts and matching short pants, in a choice of several nice colors.

A DOLLAR! Also is an unusual price tag to see on girls' dresses . . . but sure enough, we're going to have a rack of dresses for dollar day. The rack will include some cute striped cotton frocks (now $2.75) sizes 1 to 3 . . . and a number of other dresses of all sizes . . . and equally delicious values.

A DOLLAR! Will also be the tempting price tag on a table of sun bonnets, all of which have been considerably higher priced.

IF YOU are like I am you'll use up a dollar's worth of gas driving all over Los Angeles County to save a dollar shopping for things you want. But Thursday's your chance to park your car in one place and find everything you want within "spittin' distance" . . . for all the stores in Monrovia are planning to tempt you with some piperoo bargains. So see if you can borrow some brass knuckles, or at least some football shoulder pads, because, girls, there will be a crowd in Monrovia Thursday!

EVERYBODY KNOWS where the Balling Baby Shop is . . . but just for the information of back-east relatives who may be visiting here Thursday, the Balling Baby Shop is located at 401½ South Myrtle Avenue, in Monrovia.

If you hear a song that thrills you,
 Sung by a child of song,
 Praise it. Do not let the singer
 Wait deserved praises long.
 Why should one who thrills your heart
 Lack the joy you may impart?
 —Anonymous.

(Seems to me most of the people I know are too lavish with criticism and too sparing with praise. Yes, that goes for you, too POP!)

MY, MY, MY! DO I FEEL IMPORTANT! POP has put my portrait right up front where all you lovely people can see it, and of course where I hope to see the passerby stop and gaze upon my leering likeness with open admiration! Confidentially, what do you think of it? And what do you think of me, the leading exponent of FRESH vegetables, going all out like this for Pictsweet Foods, frozen fresh and full of flavor? Eh?

BE THAT AS IT MAY, IT IS MY PLEASANT duty to tell you about the luscious fruits and garden-fresh vegetables here in this big, little store, than which there is none whither! So bend your shell-like ear: We have Peaches, both Babcock and Elberta, and you should can the latter now if you have the cans; Plums, red and white but no blue as yet; Nectarines, one of the best of fruits for canning; Apricots, of course; Seedless Grapes; sweet, black Cherries; and Melons of all kinds, including Honeyballs and Honeydews, which when they are good (and ours are!) are unsurpassed for flavor. Yes, fancy Strawberries and Boysenberries, too!

IN MY CARROT DEPARTMENT YOU WILL FIND everything but chives, something nobody seems to want much anyway! How about a refreshing tossed salad for the warm-weather meal? We have the firm-ripe, home grown tomatoes, of which I think the small ones are better in flavor; long green cucumbers and short-green Avocados; Endive, Romaine, Watercress, Celery, Radishes and Green Onions.

BY THE WAY, I'VE NEVER SEEN ANYONE TOSS A SALAD. Sounds difficult! I recall reading of a Jackson, Miss., miss who tossed a pie in her boss' face. She said it was "soul-satisfying". Mebbe so, but I don't think it would be so much fun tossing one of OUR juicy pies at POP. They're frozen, you know, and much too hard to emit the squishy sound so necessary to satisfy the soul. Now Larry, the baker has some nice chocolate cream pies—but what am I saying!

To return to the parsnips, which are still good, there are so many fresh vegetables that I can name only a few: fancy Asparagus; little red Red Potatoes; sweet Green Peas; large Green Chilis; colorful New Cabbage; new, green Lima Beans; yellow Wax Beans and Kentucky Wonder Green Beans. The Kentucky Wonders are those big, tender beans which are so good when dilled and put up in jars, asparagus style, for future use. Ask MOM for the recipe.

GOSH, NOW I RAMBLE ALONG! RECKON I SHOULD TALK oftener and less, but this business is close to my frog's heart and I like to talk about it once I get started! The best news of all is that my boss, Deane Damon, has returned. He has been gone almost a month, but henceforth he will be here to help me serve you. I know you will be as glad to see him as I am!

CURLY SAYS TO TELL YOU THAT THE GROCERY department has more and better supplies all the time. Mrs. Bentzen's Butter Cookies in tins are back again. And have you tried Weston's cookie line? There is a large variety, all fancy, and just as good as any Mother ever tried to make. They are really putting sugar and such in the cookies now! CURLY also remarks that we have most of the soft (and hard) drinks in quantity now—everything you could want for a party or picnic, including a large beverage and food cooler by Coca-Cola for picnics. Are you interested?

SINCE BETTY LEFT US TO OPEN THE PLATTER HOUSE "in Duarte (that's an ad, son!), LES has been taking care of the delicatessen case in his "spare time". He has it loaded with a fine assortment of cheeses, pickles, and cold cuts. Giles Fuller, the back room cutter-upper, is making the potato salad. It must be good 'cause he has a hard time keeping up with the demand. CLARE is bragging that we now have the finest steaks and roasts ever to be sold here. That is pretty big talk! Yet, since the customers tell me the same thing, I know he must be right. POP figures meat is too darned high as it is, and that the least he can do is to give you better quality than ever before. Know what I mean?

NOTING THAT ONE OF OUR TANKERS EXPLODED and burned the other day, the office cynic remarks that Russia must have gotten all the oil she needed. By the way, have you a little printing press in your home? Mr. Morgenthau will furnish the plates so you can print the money with which to pay your taxes. Tch, tch! Such talk!

Among the pitfalls in our way:
 The best of us walk blindly.
 So, man be wary, watch and pray.
 And judge your brother kindly.
 —Alice Cary.

(Mama, do I have to include the Russians?)

5000 SEE GOV. WARREN OPEN DAM

WHILE 5000 persons watched from the heights of the King's River Canyon, Governor Earl Warren threw a switch that discharged the above blast of 40 tons of explosives, clearing away the first layer of rock for the Pine Flat reclamation project. The dam is destined to provide the lower San Joaquin Valley with flood control, irrigation water, and power. Governor Warren is pictured as he threw the switch. The dam will stand 440 ft. high, have a length of 845 ft. and a thickness of 355 feet at its base. It will impound 1,000,000 acre-feet of water.

Vote The Bonds Then Pay Taxes

A warning to property owners in various school districts was sounded last week by Supervisor William A. Smith who stated they will be greatly surprised at the amount of increase in their school taxes and which is attributable solely to their own approval at elections of the issuance of school bonds.

Supervisor Smith said that little interest on the part of voters is shown in these bond elections and that comparatively few votes are cast. The issues carry and tax rates rise accordingly. "County supervisors get the blame for the increase in these school taxes yet have absolutely nothing to do with them," Supervisor Smith said.

Six school districts notified the Board of Supervisors Tuesday that increases in minimum tax rates for their districts have been approved as a result of local elections and the Board of Supervisors had no alternative but to make a levy for the increases.

HISTORICAL QUESTION BOX

Dr. Pritchard and C. W. Jones

Question 21
Who were Sierra Madre's first business men?
Long before even "Lucky" Baldwin owned the Sierra Madre tract there were two flourishing businesses in Sierra Madre. One Levi Richardson had a colony of honey bees and supplied honey to a large list of customers in the valley and Los Angeles.

His apiary was near his home in what is now known as Cypress Court, and up the Canyon Trail.

Another first business was that of George Isip in 1870 to 73, who carried on the business of a pack train, delivering fence posts, shakes and other mountain products down Mt. Wilson Trail to customers in the San Gabriel valley.

These undertakings were previous to the beginnings of Sierra Madre as a village or settlement.

It was three or four years after N. C. Carter started the town of Sierra Madre before there were enough people here to justify the opening of a store or even the establishment of a Postoffice.

W. H. Robinson (father of Mrs. C. H. Pegler) who lived at 63 North Baldwin, about the year 1884 started a grocery and supply store in his residence which was the first business, as we class them, to be established in the village.

He later succeeded E. T. Pierce, the first Postmaster and established the Postoffice in the residence with his grocery business. After the Town Hall was built at the northeast corner of Sierra Madre Blvd. and Baldwin Ave., Mr. Robinson moved the business and the Postoffice to the Hall where he continued for over twenty years.

About the year 1885, Emile Deutsch (father of W. E. Deutsch) built his cigar factory at the southeast corner of North Baldwin and Victoria Lane, where he and his son manufactured long Havanas for more than thirty years.

In 1886 W. S. Andrews established a grocery business and packing house on the northeast corner of Lima and Sierra Madre Blvd. and many years thereafter did a fine business in shipping Sierra Madre fruits, even establishing a loading siding after the Pacific Electric entered the city.

Besides the packing business of Mr. Andrews on Lima, at that time A. D. Hawks (father of Miss Daisy Hawks and Mrs. Laura Stevenson) built a curing house of adobe brick and did a big business of shipping lemons, tangerines and oranges.

Suman's Pottery is now occupying said adobe building. Another packer of fruits was E. H. Vannier.

In 1887 C. M. Clark, who had been in the hardware business in Sandwich, Mass., sent his stock via the Cape Horn route to Sierra Madre and established the first Hardware Store at the same location as that of his cousin Mr. Andrews.

Later Mr. Clark went into the fruit-drying business and erected a large warehouse just north of his store on Lima street. Pictures of hundreds of his drying trays out in the sunshine, remain evidence of the extent of this branch of industry.

The Sierra Madre Hardware Co. was established with Mr. Clark as president and he was identified with it for many years.

Another new business was begun in 1887 by Martin Olsen who opened a shoe store and repair shop across the street from the Postoffice on Central (Sierra Madre Blvd.).

Later he built his home on Baldwin Ave. just south of the bakery and carried on the shoe business the rest of his life. Strange to relate the Postoffice is again just across the street.

S. R. Norris arrived in Sierra Madre about 1890 and soon purchased the grocery business of Mr. Andrews, but later moved it to his residence a few hundred feet east on Central where he continued until several years after the arrival of the P. E. Ry. Later he built the brick store at the corner of Lima and Sierra Madre and continued until his death. He was succeeded by his son George. Pratt's Grocery is the present establishment.

Professor John Hart carried on a popular business for many years, making choice wines in what is now the Park House in our City Park.

The Telephone Man's Assignment...

THE telephone man has been meeting emergencies continuously for the past five years, and his workers and management have formed the habit of solving seemingly unsolvable problems.

His present assignment, still an exciting challenge packed with complications and perplexities, may be divided roughly into five parts:

To maintain a high quality of service in the face of material shortages and expanded telephone usage.

To provide service to an abnormal number of new applicants.

To upgrade service, that is, reduce the number of parties on a single line (during the past few years many persons had to take multi-party line service in order to get any at all).

To keep pace with technical developments accelerated by war discoveries.

To maintain satisfactory financial returns to workers and stockholders, and reasonable rates to subscribers, in spite of rising costs.

But the telephone man is taking this assignment in his stride, as Americans always do, and is solving his problems step by step, all of them except, perhaps, the problem of rising costs.

Embree-Nosher Wedding
Solemnized Saturday Eve

Wedding vows of Jean Edith Nosher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Nosher of 265 North Mountain Trail and Samuel Stephen Embree, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Embree of 535 Auburn Avenue were solemnized before 200 guests on Saturday evening in the Congregational church. Rev Carl Smith officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, was lovely in white satin trimmed with seed pearls and wore a finger tip, lace trimmed veil. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and bovardia. The maid of honor, Evelyn Nosher, sister of the bride, and attendants, Cynthia Brunstad and Barbara Brown, were gowned in blue net with matching head bands. They carried bouquets of roses.

Bert Embree, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers Winston Dunning of Baldwin Park and Jesse Rhodes, seated the bride's mother, who was gowned in yellow with white accessories and carried white gardenias, and the mother of the groom, who wore dusty pink, complemented by blue accessories and yellow roses.

Guests included relatives from Corona, Manhattan Beach and many surrounding towns, as well as a former schoolmate of Mrs. Nosher's from New York.

A reception for 400 at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

The newlyweds, she wearing a pink suit with white accessories and gardenias, departed for an unidentified point in Northern California. They expect to make their home in Sierra Madre on their return.

ADVICE TO TOURISTS

Southern California's tourist visitors from out-of-state, who are already regarded as among the safest drivers on the area's highways, were given a "briefing" on local motor laws and conditions.

Safe driving leaflets are being mailed by the thousands to all people in eastern states who have written the community travel promotion organization at the All-Year Club indicating they are motoring here this summer.

Picnic Spots Inspected By Health Dept.

In preparation for the anticipated half million picnickers and summer residents in Los Angeles county's mountain vacation spots, inspectors from Los Angeles county health department made their rounds last week checking on sanitation of water supplies, sewage, housing, and food.

Most of the 60 camps operated by youth organizations opened this week (June 23, 1947). As permits to operate were applied for, health inspectors checked the premises and made recommendations as to necessary improvements and repairs, following the winter shut-down. Final investigations show that the staffs have been on hand for a week or more painting, cleaning, and repairing equipment preparatory to a weekly load of 3000 boys and girls.

"Weekly inspections during the summer season are also made of the water in swimming pools and lakes used by campers, as well as other possible sanitation," H. L. Messier, chief of mountain and rural sanitation, said, "and these must be kept up to the State and County standards at all times."

FIRE FLAMES

As the summer holidays approach, there are signs of fire danger. Already, small amounts of fireworks are appearing. Most of this is brought into Sierra Madre from neighboring cities. Our own merchants realize the danger and co-operate with the fire department in preventing fire and tragedy that so often accompanies Fourth of July celebrations with fireworks attached. For this participation in our endeavors the firemen are proud and grateful. It is rather disappointing to learn that one of our most popular and influential organizations is in favor of selling dangerous firecrackers and fireworks to children.

Holding firecrackers in the hand and throwing them while lighted into dry grass or shrubbery cannot be declared fun, it is folly. If those who attempt to hold the dangerous articles, fail to let go in time—well there's no sense in going into detail. Can't we forget the old, old custom of manufacturing and selling unimportant articles that are so dangerous.

Lots of us can remember the "good old days" when it was customary for boys to build their own cannons and by hook or crook get hold of some min-

Barela-Muench Marriage Friday At Las Vegas

Anthony A. Barela, Jr., and Lovelle Muench were married Friday at Las Vegas. The ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall of Pasadena.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Muench of Sunnyside, chose a golden brown dress with white and brown accessories, for her wedding. The service will receive Church Blessing Friday evening 8:30 at St. Rita's.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Barela of Suffolk Avenue.

er's powder and then after the "thing" was filled and tamped and filled and tamped again, take it to the hilltop on the eve of July Fourth and at daybreak set a match to it. There must have been a guarding angel that prevented the shrapnel, that flew in all directions, from tearing through someone's head or sumpin'.

Seldom in those days of the past was there a Fourth of July celebration after which the morning newspapers didn't have several deaths and injuries headlined, due to careless handling of fireworks.

Let me once more tell that I lost one of my dearest boy friends because of a powder burn that developed into "lock-jaw". And not only that, I can remember how many times fire was caused by fireworks. As fighting fire is the main object of this column and the fire department, we urge that one fine way to prevent fire is "to avoid all fireworks in Sierra Madre. Forbid the children from having it. In this request we are sincerely in earnest. Knowing that we are creating an opening for those who will get much pleasure in ridiculing this request by declaring we are old fashioned or out of date, we still feel that if fireworks were discontinued for free use, there would be a great savings in fire loss and many lives saved. Don't be one of those who are going to say, "Bosh!"

Twenty-five of the thirty members of the fire department enjoyed a chicken dinner up at Bob's and Thelma's Trail Inn last Tuesday. It was the "pay-off" of the losers of the recent drill contest. There was enough chicken on the tables to feed an army and none of it was left to send to the soldiers. The crew from the Hawks windmill occupied a special corner of the house and by the looks of things, Joe Grippi, Ed Decker, Charlie Brown and Eugene Toms were taking away from Tom Solury much that he had gained at the table during the dinner. The faithful few who attend the meetings of the SGVFA will go to Santa Fe Springs tonight to hear what they can about fire fighting. It is expected that the group will appoint a driver who might find the way without going through Santa Barbara.

The next BIG event on the schedule of the firemen will be the Fourth of July picnic. This brings forth much hilarity even with the Fourth of July responsibility. With fire trucks ready and men ready to man them, the picnic will go on at 391 Grove Street. Old fashioned games and races are to be arranged for. (We hope). A tug of war can be expected. (Although it may not be with a rope.) And in the mean time let's keep the FIRES OUT.
